

Mis en ligne par Revue de presse,  le 22 mars 2016 (dernière m.a.j. : 28 février 2018)

Drinking has been one of the driving forces of culture for millennia, influencing artists - and their work - throughout history.

In this new Telegraph video series, 'A Thirst for Art', the critic, author and broadcaster Alastair Sooke examines eight masterpieces that span the full scope of Western art and that each take drinking as their principal subject or theme.

Lire l'article complet de Alastair Sooke sur telegraph.co.uk